How many Googles could a Google Google if a Google Googled Google?

You can even Google Google and find out more about, uh, Google.

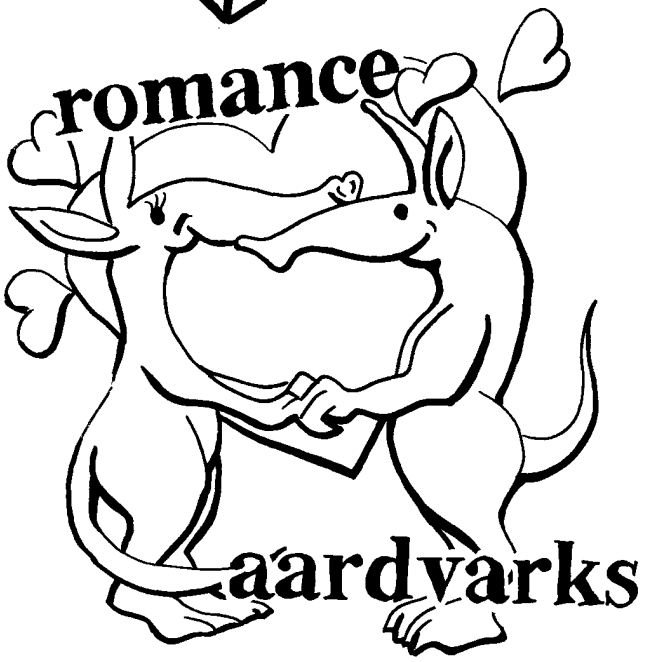

You can even Google yourself.

You can search for almost anything on Google, even the meaning of life — and you'd get about 2,490,00 responses!*

Life is...

WEALTH!
TELEVISION!

PAIN!
RHUBARB
PIE!

When it comes to finding some things, even Google falls short.

Google™

* Really! I tried it myself. (March 3, 2006)

But what if you could ask the meaning of life not from Google, but from...

God!

You don't need a keyboard
and monitor to find God.
He invites us to look for him:

"You will seek me and
find me when you seek me
with all your heart."
(Jeremiah 29:13)

We Jews for Jesus have found that the search for God ends, not at a URL,
but at Y'shua (Jesus).
In fact, since we mean a lot to God, he has been looking for us, too.

"For the Son of Man came to seek and to save
what was lost."
(Luke 19:10)

And he promises that when we find him, we'll find the things that really matter
in life:

"But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well."
(Matthew 6:33)

Even Larry and Sergey,
the Google guys,
can't promise you that!

So remember, next time
you go on Google to find out about yetis, yurts or yogurt, think about picking up a Bible and finding out about Y'shua. Or else you can just seek out:
